

Kamera, Vertigo

She's a star
She makes you totally forget
Who you are
You know you've got to watch out, boy
So secure
When she's giving you the look
You adore
Be sure you get the message, boy
Did you let her go?

Didn't I tell you so?
She'll give you vertigo
You just only fool yourself
When you ask for more and more

She's divine
And so certain that she is
One of a kind
She's all you ever dreamt of, boy
You're too shy
Spend the evening on your own
No wonder why
You're never gonna get her, boy
Did you let her go?

Didn't I tell you so?
She'll give you vertigo
And you're always asking her for more and more
It's only a fantasy
You should have let it be
You just only fool yourself
When you ask for more and more

She's divine
Still you ask for more and more

Did you let her go?

Didn't I tell you so?
She'll give you vertigo
And you're always asking her for more and more
It's only a fantasy
You should have let it be
And you're always begging her for more and more
Didn't I tell you so?
She'll give you vertigo
You just only fool yourself
When you ask for more and more
