Kane, Dead end Stay tonight let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let me hold you like I never did before Take my arms And let my arms And