

Karen Clark Sheard, Brand New Day

(feat. Yolanda Adams)

[Verse 1:]

You may have done some things that you're not too proud of
at one point in your life.

Well, you're just one good pray away
from living again, starting today.

[Chorus:]

It's a brand new day,
spread the news, go tell a friend.
It's alright to love, it's okay to live again.

Never mind your faults,
what you've done or where you've been;
'cause what's in your heart,
is all that matters in the end.

It's a brand new day.

[Verse 2:]

Maybe you were involved
in a love gone bad before,
and ever since then,
you've been bitter and scorn.

All those bad feelings,
you no longer need to hold,
'cause we're in with the new (with the new),
out with the old.

[Chorus]

[Bridge:]

Things that made you angry (in your past),
now you look at them, and (you can laugh);
'cause they don't ('cause they don't)
and they won't (and they won't) matter anymore.

It's a brand new day.

[Chorus]
