

Karin Ann, i don't believe in God i have done nothing all summer but wait for myself wait for myself to be myself again

all my friends are leaving cause i don't time for them another plane, another hotel i don't even have time for myself

maybe i'll start praying
though i don't believe in god maybe i'll start screaming till my lungs give out
maybe i'll start running till there's nowhere left to run
i don't believe in god

how am i supposed to know myself when i don't even know where my home is how am i supposed to be happy when i'm not a person anymore i'm just a picture, a video you see i'm becoming more and more 2D if you write a comment you assume i won't see but i see them all and they make me feel like i can't breathe

though i don't believe in god
i don't believe in god

though i don't believe in god
though i don't believe in god
i don't believe in god
