

Karine Polwart, I've Seen It All

Build a tower
Build a wall
Watch it burn
Watch it fall
Two for sorrow
And one for joy
I've seen it all

And it all comes undone

A pale man pleads
A pale man dies
One man applauds
And another cries
Teeth for teeth
And eyes for eyes
I've seen it all

And it all comes undone
And it all comes undone

Raise a flag
Raise your hands
Praise your Lord
And then raze his lands
While one falls
Another stands
And I've seen it all

And it all comes undone
And it all comes undone
And it all comes undone
