Karkadan, Requiem of Yearning

It's me in the dark I'm alone in the cold I'm so depressed In the corner I feel afraid to die I want you

The corner is red Of my suicide Now that I'm gone I want you again

But I know it's not true You have to go to join death, too Die to love Die to love

This is my requiem of yearning

(the girl:)
I will never miss you
Between you and me
There's only emptiness
Memories will remain
But they are left behind

My soul fades away Into loneliness Into the deep What is left is my body That never rests

My love never rests

Never rust in peace Never Never forget Never Never dream Never Never rest Never Never love Never
