

Karl Martindahl, Good Old Stonecake

Blinded by that look in your eyes
An honesty with a pleasant surprise
You're my everything,
you make me feel alright

You and you and you alone
Can make me quiver down to the bone
You're my everything,
you make me feel alright

Now I'm slowly falling into you

And she said
Why
You spin me around like a good old stonecake
And she said
Why
I hit the ground yet I feel alive
Why
You spin me around like a good old stonecake

Careless whisper into my ear
And all my problems soon disappear
You're my everything,
you make me feel alright

I can't get you out of my mind
Cause baby you are one of a kind
You're my everything,
you make me feel alright

Now I'm slowly falling into you

And she said
Why
You spin me around like a good old stonecake
And she said
Why
I hit the ground yet I feel alive
Why
You spin me around like a good old stonecake

Come on!!
Nanannananana
You're my everyting,
you make me feel alright x2

Now I'm slowly falling
Now I'm slowly falling into you

And she said
Why
You spin me around like a good old stonecake
And she said
Why
I hit the ground yet I feel alive
Why
You spin me around like a good old stonecake

Nanannananana
You're my everyting,
