

Kashmir, Christians Dive

All the last so emotional signs that he had shown us
Came so sudden and so unpredictable
I had loved a friend without knowing the balk pains of his Mind

Sure we stand and we stand
As the bullets came hard on the target
I think I've lost control

I was seeing a friend, translating love into violence
I think he had to pull his black and wrong sites out of his Soul
And his mind
Yes his mind
Oh his mind
Yes his mind

Tried to run the right escape from the same conversation
Looked as so he kissed her, but he didn't
I grabbed his arm to pull him back, but I missed, and I was on the floor
You said, don't you mess with daddy's little
Awful
