

Kashmir, Kiss Me Goodbye

I used to belong here be safe from the world here share wine and believe you'd share yours forever time passes to past tense I walked past the sealed ends pretended I was king with my back turned on the faithful

kiss me goodbye
kiss me out of your eye
shooting star
let the clouds pass you by these scents here are yours now mine's blown out but somehow I wish they'd return just can't find a way how never becomes always if you miss all these warnings I sure missed them all dragged you with me falling

kiss me goodbye
kiss me out of your eye
shooting star
wet my lips one last time

kiss me goodbye
kiss me out of your eye
shooting star
wet my lips one last time

kiss me goodbye
kiss me out of your eye
shooting star
let the clouds pass you by