Kaskade, Heart Attack

Come take aim You want more And I want the same Give me a heart attack baby Give me a heart attack

Dont stop the train We give more And well see the gain Give me a heart attack baby Give me a heart attack

They say loves a game Our loves just begun another stage Theres no good reason to feel this way If we try to work on a little give and take I wouldnt tell you its a waste of your time The memories that help me make up my mind Help me realize

I feel the pressure coming from every side Im doing things just to pass up the time Just to get me by Just to get me by
