Kaskade, This Rythm

I know this rhythm runs my soul Builds me up and moves me through the night I hope to never meet the dawn Not assuming without, I know that you?II be so

Always seems like every day I use more than I can give So I use the time I have To let the spirit within me live

I know this rhythm runs my soul Builds me up and moves me through the night I hope to never meet the dawn Not assuming without, I know that you?II be so

There?s so much to take on in Always running but it seems there?s no win Here?s a rhythm, to remind To feel the love we have inside

I know this rhythm runs my soul Builds me up and moves me through the night I hope to never meet the dawn Not assuming without, I know that you?II be so
