

Kat Dahlia, Fireman

He take a one step forward, one step back
And it's all apart of his attack
He take a one step forward, one step back
Cause he knows I like that

Fireman, oh fireman
Somebody turn up the fan
I better watch my hands

But I can't stop looking at his body
Baby he is hotter than wasabi
Whoa how he seduces with his flame
And his eyes are looking mighty naughty
I know we both know he's got it
Baby I don't even know his name

Fireman, oh fireman
Are the flames to hot for you to stand
I'm taking one step forward one step back
Yeah he's got me dancing on this track
And he is showing up the heated packs
And it's racks on racks on racks on racks

Yeah fireman, oh fireman

Oh baby he's got a plan
Oh I tried to run but I can't
And his lighting looks so birght
I've lost my sight of right
And I'm trying with my might to hold back
But he's got me chuggin while I sip
He got my smoking like a match
And the combination of the two goes against all of the facts

And it's fireman, oh fireman

Are the flames to high for you to stand
He's blowing flames out through his cats
And now I'm taking bout ten steps back
But I'm tripping on every crack
All the lights go out it fades to black
Fireman, oh fireman

Oh baby he's got a plan
Oh I can't see where I stand

He's a decievable
Don't make you a believer
Til he has your ashes in his burn
He likes the smell of flesh burning
He don't deal with no bleeders
Watch him light his match
Watch his smile turn
He don't get what he want than watch him get a little meaner
His fists get stiff and his eyes get stern

He claims he's got the medicine and babies got the fever
And he'll be there to watch me burn
Burnnnnn Burnnn Burnnnn

Oh baby he's got a plan
Oh I tried to run but I can't

Oh baby he's got a plan

Oh I tried to run but I can?t

Fireman, fireman, fireman