Kat, Religious Clash

In the shadow of the thoughts Under the hidden structure of existence Arise the pure human instinct Of endless lust for conflicts Face of divine hate Hidden in our veins Face of divine trace Follows till you die Never let evil Look in your eye Stay sharp, before light Never returns Before your sense gonna die Before your conscience gonna die Before your nerves overload Before the prophecy comes true In the twilight Religious clash, I've seen In the twilight Now the world's end In the twilight Now insane clash In the twilight - twilight Clash Religious clash Heretic's wars Heretic's stake The face of divine hate Hidden in our thoughts The face of divine trace The witness of the life Never let evil Look in your eye Stay sharp, before day Turns into night Before your sense gonna die Before your mind commits a crime Before it turns into the pain Before the prophecy comes true Religious clash Heretic's wars Heretic's stake Never ever end Stakes in the flames Religious clash
