

Kate Alexa, Always There

why was it you i dont understand and nothing shows me why maybe someday i'll see you again and tell you how much i've missed you things happen and no one knows why if i'd have raised this moment in time if i'd have known i would be by your side chorus:

you were always there even though it seems your far away i'm missin ya more than words i'm missin your more everyday where's were you in my life where's the song in my heart where's the place of my mind and the strength for me to carry on we were all wrong and you will always stay in our heart and any minute that passes by we wont let the memory fade away tryin a heal a little everyday

chorus:

there is somethin, faith in nothin and the reason's go, life must go on days will pass by, tears will find happy memories

chorus:

and strength for me to carry on.
