Kate Ceberano, Courage

Sometimes I drown in my own moods
If I feel wrong or just confused
You never desert me
And if I make the wrong impression
If Ive mistaken your intention
You know I didnt mean to
When I get dark and overcome
You humour me through till the clouds have gone
I never embarrass you

Your ways are sneaking up on me You give me truth that I can see Youve got some courage to love me

At times I am my worst enemy Instead of making me wrong you hold me in your arms You make the bed and you lie me down You tell me stories until I am calm You dont patronise me
