

Kate Miller-Heidke, Hello

You came over and delivered yourself to me like a telegram

So I dont know where I am or how I got here

I dont have a stamp

I hadnt seen you for a while you looked like your picture only deeper

And your smile was shy and your shirt, was a bit less ironed

I dont believe in fate instead I couldn't help thinking, someone must have noticed you

And folded you up nice and even, and sent you

And sent you, and sent you, to me

So dont apologise, just bring your suitcases inside

Come on, come in, you dont have to say anything, hello

Get out of the rain, here we go again

Hello

The truth is you are an angel most of the time, I dont feel too guilty

So when you look at me and I can see my dirty shadow, on your halo glow

But I wanna keep things simple no complications, no late nights and no empty train stations

Remember last time, we dont want it like that

This time around, this time around, this time around.

But dont apologise, just bring your suitcases inside

Come on, come in, you dont have to do anything, hello

Get out of the rain, here we go again.

Hello, oh hello

If we could save time, where would we keep it?

If we could keep time, when could we use it?

If we waste time, will it waste us are we too much like time, impossible to define?

Impossible to define

Impossible, no

But dont apologise, just bring your suitcases inside

Come on, come in, you dont have to say anything, hello

Get out of the rain, here we go again.

Hello, oh hello, oh hello
