

Kate Rusby, Planets

I can see,
The planets are aligning for me,
But I cannot read them,
For the future's gone,
And all behind me.

Chorus:

Through this world,
I am wandering, wandering,
A soft breeze blowing,
I am wandering now,
Through this world,
I am wandering, wandering,
These are the days I live now.

You said, turn around
So I cannot see your tears falling,
You don't make me proud,
Now I see there is
A new day dawning.

Chorus.

On nights like these,
I could fly up to the sky above me,
Like superman,
I would change the course
Of earth below me.

Chorus.

But I can see,
The planets are aligning for me,
And I dare not breathe for then
The clouds will come and then deny me.
