

Kate Todd, Indecisive

It happened for all the right reasons
In the wrong season
I'm changing more and more each day
You hate the way I've been talking
You're brushin' me off and
You always know just what to say
I'll be your contradiction
Am I fact or fiction?
I'm sealed airtight with my thoughts
Read me like a book
But take a second look
If you follow me you'll get lost
I know I've been indecisive
One week I hate ya
The next next I'm nice and
I don't know what's going on in my head
Ya there's a reason to believe that your'e the one for me
Your black magic drives me to extasy
I know it's hard for you when I change my mind
Time after time
I know I've been indecisive
One week I hate ya
The next next I'm nice and
I don't know what's going on in my head
So indecisive
So indecisive, I've been
So indecisive
What's going on in my head
Yeah!
I'm living in disguise
So don't you even try to understand my life
I know I've been Indecisive
One week I hate ya
The next next I'm nice and
I don't know what's going on in my head
Owww!
I know I've been
Indecisive
Sometimes I hate ya
And then I'm nice and
I don't know what's going on in my head
In my head, in my head
So indecisive
So indecisive, I've been
So indecisive
I've been so indecisive
I know, I know
Indecisive
I don't know what's going on in my head
What's going on in my head
In my head
