

Katie Melua, Airtime

I think we've given love too much airtime
When you call him heaven
And you call him back
And you see the same needs in the new man Tryna build our love
That he had

What if he still love him
And he gives up

I think we've given love too much airtime
You know the kind os song are meaning Maybe you forget the good night
What if the dress is fine
But it's too light

What if he still love him
When you lay dwan

It's that still the same love in the air
Maybe the obly thindg is go see him
Maybe you wanna to take him everything
So there;s a hope of no needed him

What if he still love him
When you sit down
When you finnaly sit

turn it down
too much love is all around
turn it down
turn it down
turn it down
too much love is all around
