

Katy Carr, The White Cliffs

She is walking in the sunset and her father says□

□Don't go chasing the white cliffs
You might slip into the sea
I'm telling you the one you love
Is miles away somewhere in Spain□

With this red wine I will celebrate his last flight
I will telegraph his only son
I will send him my love through the circle of time
As he flies back into my open arms

□
Don't go chasing the white cliffs
You might slip into the sea
I'm telling you the one you love
Is miles away somewhere in Spain□

Do you remember when I was wearing my wedding dress?
I fear I must wear it no more
Now, my face is white like the cliffs where he died
I'm ready to jump into the sea my love

But the fire is burning strong
And I know I'll keep singing this song
For a thousand years ain't far away
From the silence of the sea.

But I'm not filling his gap lelele, le let me go
I'm not filling his gap lelele, le let me go
I'm not filling his gap lelele, le let me go

Cause we'll meet again
Don't know where don't know when
But I know we'll meet again
Some sunny some sunny some sunny day
La, la, la, la, la /3x
