

Katy Perry, Arms Of A Woman

I am at ease in the arms of a woman.

Although now,
most of my days i spend alone.

A thousand miles,
from the place i was born.

But when she wakes me,
she takes me back home.

Now, most days,
i spend like a child.

Who's afraid of ghosts in my mind.

I know, there aint nothing out there.

I'm still afraid to turn on the lights.

I am at ease in the arms of a woman.

Although now,
most of my days a i spend alone.

A thousand miles,
the place i was born.

When she wakes me,
she takes me back home.

A thousand miles,
the place i was born.

When she wakes me,
she takes me back home.

I am at ease in the arms of a woman.

Although now,
most of my days i spend alone.

A thousand miles,
from the place i was born.

When she wakes me,
she takes me..

Ya, when she wakes me,
she takes me back home.

When she wakes me,
she takes me back home.
