

Keaton Henson, Kronos

I've been looking for you all year long
Just to tell me I have not been wrong
Is this all that you can give me back?
Come on, woman, you'll have to do worse than that

And now I see that waking everyday
Always leads straight to feeling this way
And if you've no more to say than that
Oh well, I'll be leaving and I won't come back

I'd give you all I have
If I could get it back
This has been the best of me
I hope you end up missing me
And I'll hold on to that
And I'll hold on to that
And I'll hold on to that

Is the water dragging at your feet
Urging you to slip down underneath?
Are you gonna let me take your soul?
My god, you really are, I'm gonna eat you whole
You son of a bitch
Stop writing songs like this
You think you're better than them
But they don't have to pretend

I'd give you all I have
If I could get it back
This has been the best of me
I hope you end up missing me
And I'll hold on to that
And I'll hold on to that
And I'll hold on to that
And I'll hold on to that
And I'll hold on to that
