

Kecak, Fun Size!

Consider yourself warned 'cause I won't say it again
And a poor choice of words leads to a premature end
'Cause my patience is thinning and my fuse has been lit
You've got no hope of winning and it's too late to quit

You know you've taken some risks
You know you've gambled and lost
'Cause I've been checking my list
And you're name's at the top

You've got three strikes and now you're out
I'll fuck you up, you're going down
(I'll make you fun sized!) Fun Sized!
Because the bigger you are I know the harder you fall

You think that you're such a big man
I hold your life inside my hands.
(I'll make you fun sized!) Fun Sized!
So now you think you're so big, see what it's like to be small

I'll play the part of the hunter, you play the part of my prey
Which has lead you to wonder, "Dear Lord, why must it end this way?"
You had you're chance to be civil, I had my chance to forgive
I could make it so simple if I decided to say, "Live and let live."

But there's only so much abuse that a man can take
Casual cruelty and aimless contempt can make a good heart break
I've swallowed all of my pride and measured these words that I've said
But now I'm picking a fight even if it's all inside my head

You've got three strikes and now you're out
I'll fuck you up, you're going down
(I'll make you fun sized!) Fun Sized!
Because the bigger you are I know the harder you fall

You think that you're such a big man
I hold your life inside my hands.
(I'll make you fun sized!) Fun Sized!
So now you think you're so big, see what it's like to be small
