

Kecak, Ms. Harvey's Beautiful Blues

Answered a call for a cast of millions
The same ten fingers are handed the same twelve notes
It's just another brick in the wall of sound

I change the channel
I think I've heard this one before
I change the channel
Don't think I like this anymore

Sitting alone on a Sunday afternoon
Listening to Ms. Harvey's beautiful blues
Sitting at home on a Sunday afternoon
Praying for my heart to be broken in two

Been told the last song I heard sold millions
Our minds sacrificed in the name of some bad joke
Whatever's lost, no one wants to be found

I change the channel
I know I've heard this one before
I change the channel
Don't know, I like this anymore

Sitting alone on a Sunday afternoon
Listening to Ms. Harvey's beautiful blues
Sitting at home on a Sunday afternoon
Praying for my heart to be broken in two

And I'm still waiting