

Keith Urban, Used To The Pain

And so I wrote this song for you
I think I know just what you're going through
Did you believe you'd never change
Nothing ever stays the same

I know it's hard holding on
Even harder trying to let it go
And so you're frozen like a stone
But you are not alone

Every step I take
I get a little less afraid
Of giving into love
Love, let it out
Believe me when I say
It gets better every day
Once you get used to the pain

What you hide inside I see
There's a scar that's always gonna be
There's a past in everyone
You can't undo, you can't outrun

Every step I take
I get a little less afraid
Of giving into love
Love, let it out
Believe me when I say
It gets better every day
Once you get used to the pain

Every step I take
I get a little less afraid
Of giving into love
Love, let it out
Believe me when I say
It gets better every day
Once you get used to the pain

Once you get used to the pain
