

Kellie Coffey, At The End Of The Day

(Kellie Coffey/Brett James)

Throw the covers off my head
Shake my body out of bed
Stretch my arms up
And look out the window
Sun is rising
birds are singing
I am greeted by the gift of another new morning
And I know tonight as my head hits the pillow
I will ask myself as I look out the same window
At the end of the day
Did I laugh and dance enough
Did I tell my friends how much they really mean to me
At the end of the day
Did I really push myself
Or was I too afraid
To give my heart away
At the end of the day
I wanna learn I wanna live take some big chance and just trust in my instincts and my intuition
If I win or if I lose
Any road that I choose
I will drive all the way

I wanna know tonight as I fall fast asleep
I am one day closer
To where I wanna be
At the end of the day
Did I laugh and dance enough
Did I tell my friends how much they really mean to me
At the end of the day
Did I really push myself
Or was I too afraid
To give my heart away
At the end of the day
To never forget what matters most
To never have to answer noooooo
When I ask myself
Did I laugh and dance enough
Did I tell my friends how much they really mean to me
At the end of the day
At the end of the day
Did I really push myself
Or was I too afraid
At the end of the day
