

Kelly Clarkson, Impossible

So woke up and thought Id try
Try to step across the line
You know that I been thinking bout it for a while
Yeah
Its time to think its time I knew
Does me good to know I finally feel
Feel this pain, its really possible
You say
Cant change the winter say
Wont matter anyway
Cant reach that far cuz its impossible
(its impossible)
Cant rise above this place
Wont change them all so Ill be
Breaking down the walls to the impossible
Walking by myself I know
This lonely roads becoming my new home
But I dont stop, I just keep moving on
And on
Aint no need to dry my eyes,
I havent cried in quite some time,
Every day I find that you know its possible
You say
Cant change the winter say
Wont matter anyway
Cant reach that far cuz its impossible
Cant rise above this place
Wont change them all so Ill be
Breaking down the walls to the impossible
(its impossible)
Someone tell me why youre so hard taking chances
You draw the line to think that I wont ask for more.
Yeah
I will stumble and I make my own mistakes yeah
But I wont worry bout it anymore
Its impossible
Cant change the winter say
Wont matter anyway
Cant reach that far cuz its impossible
(its impossible)
Cant rise above this place
Wont change them all so Ill be
Breaking down the walls to the impossible
Its impossible to you
Not impossible to me
Not impossible for me
Cant rise above this place
Wont change them all so Ill be
Breaking down the walls
To the impossible
So woke up and thought Id try, try to step across the line
