

Kelly Family, Cover The Road

You might say you're pretty you might say you're free life may be so easy love may be so free

till the end of time

you might say you're ugly
you might say you're chained life may be so dreary love may be a shame

till the end of time

Life is a highway you're sitting on the wheel and you decide the speed here is the easy and there is the hard way it's either one

till the end of time

it's inside your heart lady where the battle is won
