

Kelly Family, I Wanna Be Loved

Sometimes it's hard to realise one's Live ain't living
One rather denies the true
Loneliness of this unliving
But I know I wasn't fruitlessly born

I don't let myself receive
I guess it's the punishment of my childish fears Spent my time kidding myself
With stupid excuses oh I'm such a fool
When all I have to do is learn to let you in

refrain
Cause I wanna be loved by somebody
Am I asking too much
Am I too impatient please tell me God
That you're with me cause deep down inside
I'm only hungry to be loved too

You remind me to give and see the reasons
For all these battles and the true self of me
Is only healthy when it listens to you You're the endless giving hand and the purest of all truth

refrain

Everything has its place
Every child has your grace
Why do I sleep when there is so much to see
Help me help myself

I wanna be
I wanna be loved
Wanna be loved; repeat 3x
