Kelly Family, The Children Of Kosovo

I belive someone's out therewho's gonna help me givea nameless child loving and care I belive you are out thereyou're gonna help me give the children tender loving care

So much hate has turned to vengeance All the laughter has turned to crying While the mothers losetheir children from war to war

I am hungry and I'm cold andI have no one to hold formy mother and my father are dead and gone where do I belong

Chorus
This children of Kosovo are crying for a helping handThe children of Kosovo are dreaming of a peaceful land

They have beaten my older brother they have torn away my sister I'm afraid I want revenge Is there no other way

Let's hold our hands tightly together and think as one foreverYou and I can make achange for a better world no more warChorus
