

Kelly Groucutt, Don't Wanna Hear That Song

Shame on you for making me cry,
You had me on your shoulder,
Then you wiped the tears from my eyes,
I thought that it was over.
But you said "I'll see you tonight,
I'll meet you at the same place"
So here I stand wondering why
It's not the chance you're taking
It's just my heart your breaking now.

You've gone and done it once again
You left me crying in the rain
You've gone and done it once again
Don't sing that song for me
Don't play that melody
I don't wanna hear that song again

I was told don't be such a fool,
They said we've seen it all before
I didn't think you could be so cruel.
You came! You knocked me to the floor
(Is it true or am I dreaming?)
Oh no, a dream couldn't be so bad.
Here I stand with tears in my eyes
I've got this thing about you,
Don't make me leave without you now.

You've gone and done it once again
You left me crying in the rain
You've gone and done it once again
Don't sing that song for me
Don't play that melody
I don't wanna hear that song again
Don't wanna hear that song again
You left me crying in the rain
You've gone and done it once again
You've gone and done it once again
You left me crying in the rain [fade out]
