

Kelly Willis, Hole In My Heart

Don't understand why I don't love you no one could ask for a heart more true
Sometimes I think I was born this blue I should have known from the start
Now I got a hole in my heart I seem to be missin' a part
Oh I pull the pieces together again but this hole in my heart won't mend
[ guitar ]
I was in love once long ago I tried my best not to let it show
He was the kind that'll always know that's the kind that'll tear you
Now I got a hole in my heart I seem to be missin' a part
Oh I pull the pieces together again but this hole in my heart won't mend
I got a hole in my heart

I'd be a fool to let you go tell me something that I don't know
He got the roses and the warm red wine
You got the thorns and these blues of mine
I got a rainbow I'll never find stumbling around in the dark
Now I got a hole in my heart seem to be missin' a part
Oh I pull the pieces together again but this hole in my heart won't mend
Now I got a hole in my heart seem to be missin' a part
Oh I pull the pieces together again but this hole in my heart won't mend
Now I got a hole in my heart I seem to be missin' a part
Now I got a hole in my heart
