

Kelly Willis, Looking For Someone Like You

I've been around from town to town I've seen a thing or two
I've been across this whole wide world looking for someone like you

I was a fool when I let you go I guess I never knew
That I would spend the rest of my days looking for someone like you

Everyday I search in vain I'd do anything to have you back again
Well you don't know what I've been through looking for someone like you

Spent some time with other guys but that only made me blue
Now I know how hard it is looking for someone like you

Everyday I search in vain...

I don't want to feel like this without you there's no emptiness
I was wrong and now I see that you're the only one there is for me

[guitar]

So baby won't you please come home I'll do what you want me to do
And then I'll never have to worry again about looking for someone like you

Well everyday I search in vain...

Well everyday I search in vain...

Looking for someone like you
