

Kelly Willis, Reason To Believe

(Kelly Willis)

Now my dreams can all come true
Now all my life can follow through
Suddenly it's all so clear
There's not a thing I should fear

Who'd have thought that it would start
With the beating of your heart
That the world would stop for me
And show me love like it should be

Holding your hand in mine
Catching my breath each time
Gazing up at the stars
Now they don't seem so far

Holding your hand in mine
Catching my breath each time
Gazing up at the stars
Now they don't seem so far

Spread the news that I'm alive
Cause I was born in your blue eyes
Good things were meant for me
Now I've a reason to believe

Good things were meant for me
Oh I believe yes I believe
