

Kelly Willis, Up All Night

The sun is breaking on a new day
You'd be with me if I had my way
I usually take the hard times smiling
But I've been up all night crying

You made a promise meant for keeping
Then I gave up on our love so easy
You said that you felt good for trying
But I've been up all night crying

I guess I can make it on my own
I'll get used to being alone

I'm going face to face with a heartache
And I won't quit till the pain breaks
No there won't be no use denying
That I'll be up all night crying
[ guitar ]
I guess I can make it on my own
I'll get used to being alone

The sun is breaking on a new day...
Yes I've been up all night crying
