

Kelvin Jones, Carry You

Maybe you're feelin' alone
Maybe you think I don't love you
Maybe you wonder if I will walk away
No longer feel like you're home[
Never believed in above you
Pulling you under it's more than you can bear
Well I been fucking up all day
I got stuck in my old ways
Told myself that you're okay
But I should have said

Hold on to me darling when your love is running low
Even when you're falling
I will carry you
The sun won't ever go down on your heart
I hope you know
I'll be here with you til you're up again

Losing your hope in the light all that low got you lying in bed and you're crying it's sad Moving your happy to later got outta the way to make room for the shit that you hate

I been fucking up all day
I got stuck in my old ways
Told myself that you're okay

But I should have said

Hold on to me darling when your love is running low
Even when you're falling
I will carry you
The sun won't ever go down on your heart
I hope you know
I'll be here with you til you're up again
