Kendall Payne, Not Afraid To Be Me

Ive got a new way of living now a little less of a lot

A little more of nothing

Thought you might have seen the change in me

Little quicker to listen little slower to speak

I was wrong when I said I was strong I am weak and I need

All that you have to give

I cannot keep the voices quiet inside

Hear them sing hear the scream, at least I know Im alive

'Cause I am meeting myself and I am liking what I see

I am not afraid anymoré

Not afraid to be bored

Not afraid to be me

Every battle leads to another war

Every day Im reminded of what Im fighting for

Its never easy and its never the same

But its worth all Ive got and so I'll give it again

'Cause I am meeting myself and I am liking what I see

I am not afraid anymore

Not afraid to be bored

Not afraid to be me

I am meeting myself and I am liking what I see

I am not afraid anymore

Not afraid to be bored

Not afraid to be me

Now I dont, I dont know why

But it makes me want to cry, cry

I am meeting myself

I am ready to see

The truth can break our hearts that is when it will starts

To set us free

Ive got a new way of living now a little less of a lot

A little more of nothing

Thought you might have seen the change in me

Little guicker to listen little slower to speak
