

Kenny Price, Don't Let The Good Life Pass You By

Did you ever lie and listen to the rain fall did you ever own a homemade apple pie
Did you ever watch a child while he was praying
Just don't let the good life pass you by
Did you ever hold a hand to stop its trembling
Did you ever watch the sun desert the sky
Did you ever hold a woman while she's sleeping
Just don't let the good life pass you by
Man was made for loving not for buying go can't give you things we really need
Just look my friend there's happiness in living
Somewhere between broke and being free
Did you ever see the funny side of losing did you ever sit right down and have a cry
Did you ever take the time to help your neighbor
Just don't let the good life pass you by [guitar]
Oh a man was made for loving...
Just don't let the good life pass you by just don't let the good life pass you by
No no no no don't let the good life pass you by
