

Kenny Price, Show Me A Man

Show me a man who starts each new born day giving his thanks unto God
Show me a man who digs beneath the earth
Mining black gold yard by yard and that's hard
Show me a man who risks his life to say someone that he doesn't know
Show me a man that's hold yet plants a tree a tree that he'll never see grow
Show me a man who is starving yet shares his crust of bread
He is a man who face tragedy and never bow his head
[guitar]
Show me a man who's not afraid to speak what others think but fear to say
Show me a man who finds a cost that's just
That stands his ground come what may come what may Show me a man who's hard and calloused hands reach down to help a fallen hurt
Show me a man who never in his life heard a living thing by Thee Thy word
Show me a man who'd take revenge yet stays the lethal hand
Show me a man who is all of this and I'll show you a man
