

Kenny Rogers, Take This Heart

Take this heart of mine put it in a saved place
Take this tears I've cried put 'em on another face
They don't have the meanin' that they did before
I don't think I need them anymore.

Take this empty arms they have no one to hold
All those dreams I hold inside they are in the cold
They don't have the meanin' that they did before
I don't think I need them anymore.

It's not the way it always used to be 'Cause you don't see a future love for you and me
I go on hopin' somewhere in your heart
You might find a place for me someday...
