

Keri Noble, Talk To Me

There you go again
I let you get away
At least Ive got more time
To think of what I might say (like)
Couldnt we be good (or maybe)
Dont you think that we should find
Some quiet little place where wed make love all day?
Come and talk to me
What are you waiting for Cuz I can see you passing every day and Im always wanting more
Come and talk to me
What are you gonna do
Cuz I cant seem to get the nerve to get off my own ass
And come and talk to you
You know I love the type
You look like youve been up all night
And yet somehow still look beautiful
You do it all at the same time
Whenever you walk by
You always look me in the eyes
And in that moment I know the same things on your mind
It always seems to be that I let the good things pass by Because I let my fear stop me (but not this time)
