

Kernaghan Tania, If I Were The Woman

You've left your house keys in the kitchen
Your cars loaded in the drive
I can barely breath for wishing
God would grant me some more time
But I'll find a smaile for the moment
To keep the pain form falling from my eyes
How can you say our love is over
You're all I wanted in my life

CHORUS

But if I were the woman you've turned to
The woman who changed you somehow
If I were the woman you're keeping
I would not be needing you now
But I'll kiss uyou goodbye
Hold you tight
And pretend one last time you're mine

CHORUS

If I were the woman you're keeping
I would not be needing you now
