

Kesha, Delusional

You're so lucky
I was jealous
Now you're just another song on my setlist
Now you're just another charm on this necklace
That keeps holding on and on

You should pay me
For all the hours
That I let you in the presence of my power
You had potential but potential doesn't matter
I'm already long gone

Packed up my suitcase
A ticket one way
No tears on my face
Not even one
Thanks for the heartbreak
It gets my bills paid
You just keep chasing the sun

Baby you're delusional
Thinking you could ever find
Something that's as beautiful
Someone with a love like mine
I'm sick of the fighting
Sick of the climbing
You made me hate this town
Baby you're delusional
Thinking you could find someone better now

Woah
Thinking you could find, thinking you could find
Thinking you could find, thinking you could find
Woah
Thinking you could find, thinking you could find
Thinking you could find, thinking you could find

I've been living the goddamn dream
My time expensive and you're just too cheap
The way I'm single, do it so obscene
Watch me getting hotter on your cheap tv
I'm in the heavens
I'm on 11
You're like a 4
But who's keeping score
Live for the heartbreak
It gets my bills paid
Thank god you walked out that door

Baby you're delusional
Thinking you could ever find
Something that's as beautiful
Someone with a love like mine
I'm sick of the fighting
Sick of the climbing
You made me hate this town
Baby you're delusional
Thinking you could find someone better now

Woah
Thinking you could find, thinking you could find
Thinking you could find, thinking you could find
Woah
Thinking you could find, thinking you could find

Thinking you could find, thinking you could find

I was so delusional
giving you a goddamn chance
You didn't have to lose it all
If you acted like a man
Look at me shining
My stars aligning
You thought you'd bring me down
Baby you're delusional
Wow

Baby you're delusional
Baby you're delusional
I'm sick of the fighting
Sick of the climbing
Look at me run this town
Baby you're delusional
Thinking you could find someone better now