

Kevin Ayers, Given And Taken

So I give my heart to you though I can't be sure you won't take it and break it and hurt me
I've been hurt so many times before

We can play those games of love like other people do but that's not me or you it's just everyone else is all dreams and I want something new

And there are no guarantees that can set your heart at ease
'cause no one ever knows how the feeling comes and goes when you're sure it's so strong it can never go wrong it'll always go on and then suddenly it goes

Only brave hearts live their love weak hearts hide in dreams living lives in romance leaving danger and chance to the warriors of love

And there are no guarantees
that can set your heart at ease
'cause no one ever knows
how the feeling comes and goes
when you're sure it's so strong
it can never go wrong
it'll always go on and
then suddenly it's gone

So I give my heart to you
though I can't be sure
you won't take it and break it
and hurt me
I've been hurt so many times before