

Kevin Borg, More Than I Do Now

I will look into your eyes and tell you now
That I need you
An I'll never reach the end of wanting you
Angel without wings
Lyin next to me
I can't believe what heaven let you come to me tonight
Light within my soul
It's you who keeps me breathin
You who keeps me seeing there is colour in this life
I will look into your eyes and tell you now
That I need you
And I'll never reach the end of wanting you
Some how
Can't wait untill tomorrow
Till I see your face again
I will love you
Even more than I do now
When the doubt comes in
I know I'm not that easy
Baby all you have to do is turn to me and then
I will look into your eyes and tell you now
That I need you
And I'll never reach the end of wanting you
Some how
Can't wait untill tomorrow
Till I see your face again
I will love you
Even more than I do now
Every day, every moment that passes between us
Makes silence seem like it calls your name
I will look into your eyes and tell you now
That I need you
And I'll never reach the end of wanting you
Some how
I will look into your eyes and tell you now
That I need you
And I'll never reach the end of wanting you
Some how
Can't wait untill tomorrow
Till I see your face again
I will love you
Even more than I do now
