

Kevin Tellie, No Good Bye Kiss

Been sitting in my bed room, studying my walls
Been looking at this new paper with your face on it
Tells all
Been thinking of things that could have been done
Been searching my mind for something that screams 'one'
Been studying my prayers for something new
Again studying this paper and only seeing you

But I'll swallow my tears and walk into my room
I'll fall into your arms with loose dreams
I'll stay here

I hope you like my T-shirt
I know you've seen it before
I hope you liked the way I looked at you coming out of
That classroom door
I hope you like my words
I hope they hit you in the heart
I know this is turning out good from the start

But I'll swallow my tears and walk into my room
I'll fall into your arms with loose dreams
I'll stay here

I hope I turned out fine
I hope I'm everything you're dreaming of
I hope you can hear me through your door when I'm singing to you
I hope you like my song
I wish you're covered in tears
I hope it's something to dream of for your years
You're leaving tomorrow
No good bye kiss
But you kept my heart from Tuesday and I'll miss you
Yes I'll miss you

But I'll swallow my tears and walk into my room
I'll fall into your arms with loose dreams
I'll stay here
