

Khan, Stargazers

Open your eyes if you dare
Future comes, all you know is that you'll share
Suns and moons, many cycles, miles of days
Your love shines like a beacon through the haze

Your twin lives twined together
Jigsaw, fit, snap together
Your twin heads crowned together
King and Queen
An extra gene

Can your words cope with infinity?
You must communicate it perfectly
Don't you think you can surely make it now?
You don't need anyone to tell you how

Your twin lives twined together
Jigsaw, fit, snap together
Your twin heads crowned together
King and Queen
An extra gene
