

Kid Courageous, Picture Perfect

There's an empty sound inside the house
Where he used to live
Happy days were few and far between
He never saw his father cry
But saw more in his eyes
I can't believe I thought you'd leave
And never get to say goodbye

And somethings will never feel the same
But you can always hide tears if you're standing in the rain

This house feels so empty
The smiles on the photos on the walls faded away
Is my bedroom still the same?
Cause I'll come home one day
And we'll be happy
(Say you love me, don't forget me)
Can we make this picture perfect?

The coldest shadow falls upon
A clock not ticking, candles burning
And the feeling as she leaves
She sang to the answering machine
As another street sign
Told the story of the distance inbetween

And somethings will never feel the same
But you can always hide tears if you're standing in the rain

This house feels so empty
The smiles on the photos on the walls faded away
Is my bedroom still the same?
Cause I'll come home one day
And we'll be happy

Did it hurt the day you walked away?
Don't say you're sorry
Just say that you love me!

This house feels so empty
The smiles on the photos on the walls faded away
Is my bedroom still the same?
Cause I'll come home one day
And we'll be happy

And somethings will never feel the same
But you can always hide tears if you're standing in the rain
