

Kid Dynamite, Got A Minute?

We used to see each other everyday
Now we're lucky if it's twice a year
I don't know but I've been thinking
Without blinking we've been set back

Remember driving though the yesteryears
With conversations of our dreams and fears
You grabbed yours
I'm grabbing mine now

And at your wedding i just smiled
And thought about
How life goes by so fast
So many friendships
Were'nt really meant to last

We have always been
Good at keeping in touch
But for some reason
It's never ment this much

Yeah
It's hard to believe
That you have a brand new life
While mine i take in stride
Yeah
It's hard to believe
How easy dreams come true
When you want them to

We used to see each other everyday
Now we're lucky if it's twice a year
I don't know but I've been thinking
Without blinking we've been set back

Remember driving though the yesteryears
With conversations of our dreams and fears
You grabbed yours
I'm grabbing mine now

And at your wedding i just smiled and thought
