

Kid Dynamite, S.O.S.

My heart skipped a beat
That night before we said goodbye
Did you catch it?
Please say you caught it
Looked in you eyes
Grabbed every sigh
Please dont forget to breath
Cuz it's killing me
The moon was gone for hours
When we were winding down
We should have stayed up longer
Your eyes were tired, I know
Please understand
That I'll be back
If your still around
Thats where I'll be
You have my thoughts and you have my words
But the road has my contempt

Pavement hisses
me to sleep as you drive away
The hardest part was touching your face
Knowing i had to let you go
Chalk another
Mile to the board of seperation
Small towns make the best of my sickness
When the cures so far away

And it seems so sad
But times not flying tonight

My heart skipped a beat
That night before we said goodbye
Did you catch it?
Please say you caught it
As I looked in you eyes
Grabbed every sigh
Please dont forget to breath
Cuz it's killing me
The moon was gone for hours
When we were winding down
We should have stayed up longer
Your eyes were tired, I know
Please understand
That I'll be back
If your still around
Thats where I'll be
You have my thoughts and you have my words
But the road has my contempt

Wish that i could
Catch a shooting star home right now
But were moving to fast
Can't slow down
No one cares just how i feel
Your sleep time twitches
Shake the world and make sandmen sing
Settle nerves and tell me your dreaming
Theres still some time to think

And it just seems so sad
